

FORD BIDS FOR ALL NAVIES

DETROIT MANUFACTURER WILL BUY SHIPS WHICH MAY BE SCRAPPED BY NATIONS OF WORLD IS SENSATIONAL ANNOUNCEMENT

"You Tell Them I can Finance the Under-taking," Ford Declares to Correspondent—U. S. Will Consider Offer.

By ALLEN A. BENSON,
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1921 by L. N. S.)

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 16.—Henry Ford today authorized me to make the following sensational announcement upon his behalf: "I will buy the navies of the world at junk prices," he said, and "then turn them into agricultural machinery and automobiles if the United States and the other powers will agree to disarm on the sea."

"You may tell those gentlemen in Washington that I mean business. They may think that I could not finance such an undertaking but you may tell them that I can. You may assure them that with torches and electricity I can cut those warships to pieces and make useful things out of them."

"I wish you would make it plain that I stand ready to buy at junk prices any and every warship that the United States and other powers may think of sinking. Please ask them not to sink a ship. I understand that some of the captured German ships were sent to the bottom. It is a crime to sink metal like that. The world has need of it. So please state that even though the powers should be willing only partly to disarm on the sea that I will buy whatever ships they may agree to withdraw from their navies."

"But they ought to scrap the whole lot. There is no reason why a warship should be left upon all of the oceans of the world. If these diplomats mean business they will accept my proposition and disarm. These diplomats say they want naval force only as protection. Each one denies that he wants for purpose of aggression even the remnant that the Hughes plan leaves each nation."

Well, if that is the case, why should not all of the governments sell their ships to me? I'll promise not to use them to fight anybody with. I'll melt them up and make them into things that will make life better instead of worse. Put the American fleet into my hands and Japan need never be afraid of it again. Put the Japanese fleet into my hands and America need not be afraid of it. Put the British fleet into my hands and neither America nor any other nation need fear it. With these fleets in my hands no people would be taxed to maintain them. Nobody would be harmed and everybody would be benefited. If the powers will sell me their navies I will help them solve their unemployment problems.

"The unemployment problem is going to be worse, even by the disarmament plan which Mr. Hughes proposes. If warship building is going to be stopped for 10 years thousands of men who are now working in steel mills and shipyards will be deprived of employment."

"Something should be done for these men. I will do something for them if the powers will sell me their warships. I will not only give employment to thousands more men in my tractor and automobile works but indirectly I will give employment to many more thousands. When I employ men to make a tractor, for instance, I cause employment to be given to the railway men who take to market the wheat that the tractor helps to grow, the millers who grind it, the bakers who make it into bread, the clerks who sell it and to the drivers of delivery wagons who take it to the homes."

"It is a very dangerous thing to leave in existence any fraction, however small, of existing navies. Each of these parts, if left, will ultimately be expanded into a big navy again and we shall have the present situation all over again."

"The world does not need any of these ships. I need all of them. If I can buy them—I will manufacture things that will make people happy instead of sad."

WOULD CONSIDER OFFER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—If the armament conference agrees to the American proposals for naval reductions the navy department will receive offers from Henry Ford and any other bidders for the purchase of ships to be scrapped by this nation, it was announced at the navy department today. It is not the intention of the administration to sink the vessels which may be scrapped, but an effort will be made to get as much money out of them as possible, it was stated.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSO. ENDORSES THE BOND ISSUE

Unanimous was the endorsement of the school bond issue by the members of the Parent-Teachers Association, which met yesterday afternoon at the Gordon school, with a good attendance. The bond issue took precedence over everything in the deliberations of this organization and if these good women were to make the decision it would be settled favorably by a solid majority.

The opinion was expressed that the bond issue would carry on Tuesday, November 22, the date of election, but it was advised that a strenuous campaign be kept up in order that overconfidence might not lead to indifference. The following officers were selected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. C. E. Malone; vice president, Mrs. J. M. Brown; secretary, Mrs. Will McDermott; treasurer, Mrs. Kimball Jones; publicity chairman, Mrs. W. R. Shelton. The president will appoint members of the governing board and finance committee.

Dry Acts Relating to Stills Upheld

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 16.—Validity of the act of the legislature of 1919 making the possession of a still a felony and punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary was upheld by the court of appeals Tuesday afternoon when it affirmed the case of H. H. McNeal versus the state, from the Houston circuit court, and denied McNeal's application for rehearing.

McNeal attacked the validity of the act on the ground that it contained two subjects in violation of section 45 of the constitution. McNeal contended that section 1 which provided for the punishment of persons who had stills in their possession was one subject and that section 4, which required the imposition of a fee of $50 in every case for having a still in possession which would go to the sheriff making the arrest or the person furnishing the information was another subject. The court of appeals held that the bill contained only the one subject relating to the possession of the stills and the enforcement of the law and that section 4 was not another subject.

SMALL DAMAGE

Small damage was done early this morning by fire in the Model laundry on Moulton street. The fire is believed to have originated from an electric wire.

Far Eastern Problems Are Taken Up By Conferees In Secret Session

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD OVER COUNTY FOR ORGANIZATION OF FARM BUREAUS

Educational Campaign Will be Conducted in Morgan County Communities

SPEAKER TO EXPLAIN PLAN OF OPERATION

Final Meeting Will be Held in Albany-Decatur on November 25

During the week of November 21 to 25 an educational campaign will be put on in Morgan county by the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, assisted by local citizens, and the Extension forces from Auburn to explain fully the work of the Farm Bureau. This move on the part of the leading agricultural men of the county and state will meet with a hearty response from the people.

Sixteen counties in Alabama have already organized with a total membership of over 3,500. Twenty-five more counties to the state are now making their final plans for immediate organization. Two thousand counties in forty-five states with a total membership of over 1,500,000 are now working in and for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Texas has over 70,000 members. Texas began organizing her counties about one and one-half years ago. They have set up commodity marketing systems for cotton, hay, tomatoes, and wool. The Texas Farm Bureau Federation has secured $16,000,000 from the war finance board and from local banks to finance marketing organization.

What Texas has done Alabama can do with cotton, hay, peanuts, syrup, peas, potatoes and every other commodity. Morgan county must have a strong farm bureau organization with active, aggressive farmers in control.

For the purpose of informing the people on the work of a farm bureau, meetings will be held during the coming week at the following places:

To Back Decatur Athletic Teams

A meeting will be held tonight of interested Decatur citizens to form an athletic association, one of the purposes of which, it is understood, will be to aid the athletic teams of the Decatur high school. By next year it is planned to have the new $100,000 high school completed and friends of the school hope to have a good football machine to represent the institution.

OFFER TO PURCHASE SCRAPPED NAVIES IS OF INTEREST, LOCAL PEOPLE OPTIMISTIC

Decline to be Discouraged Over Outlook for the Muscle Shoals

WEEKS REFUSES AN ANSWER TO JAMES

Awaits Final Decision on Offer Made by the Detroit Man

Local citizens were greatly interested today in the announcement from Detroit that Henry Ford was willing to purchase the navies of the world at junk prices. They saw in the announcement, however, nothing that might be construed as conflicting with the offer of Ford to take over and operate the Muscle Shoals plant. It was pointed out that should Ford be awarded the Shoals it will be even more necessary than it is now for him to buy metal in large quantities. Local citizens believed Ford able to finance both propositions if his offer is accepted in each.

They declined to be entirely discouraged by the contract with the Alabama Power company for temporary operation of plant number two by the power company.

The following dispatch to The Daily from Washington today indicates that Secretary Weeks still is considering the Ford offer very favorably.

Secretary of War Weeks today conferred with W. P. James, of Chattanooga, relative to the proposal James has made to the government in connection with the future of Muscle Shoals nitrate plant in Alabama. James' proposal calls on the government to complete the Muscle Shoals dam and he then offers to buy the power developed.

Secretary Weeks informed James he would not consider his offer until he has reached a final decision on the proposals made by Henry Ford. The Secretary told James that he felt the Ford proposal was more inclusive and should have first consideration from the government.

DOBBINS PREDICTS BATTLE FOR VANDY

Despite Sewanee's poor showing against Tennessee, a team which was licked by Vanderbilt, a warm battle for the Gold and Black machine on Thanksgiving Day when the Tiger meets his old time foe, is predicted by Bob Dobbins, former crack tackle at the mountain institution.

"The Tiger will take his machine from the Tennessee game and some of the faults which showed up in that game will not be apparent against Sewanee," Dobbins said. He scouted the Vanderbilt-Georgia game for the Sewanee squad and Tolley, another old Sewanee star, picked up a bunch of pointers for the Tigers.

"You must hand it to McGugin for it was strategy which saved Vandy from a defeat in the Georgia game," he said. "The Vandy team used its collective think tank and tied the game. No matter what his material may be you can always count on McGugin putting out a good team. This is the first year in several that Sewanee has had the secondary strength which Vanderbilt always possesses and the Tiger is out for blood this year." A number of local fans will journey to Nashville to witness the scrap.

Bookkeeper Upholds Lacy's Story of Transaction With Frank and Company

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 16.—R. V. Gunter, bookkeeper for Bernard Frank and Company, at the time Theo. Lacy obtained $2,200 of state funds for the sale of underwear to Frank by the state convict department and for the larceny of which he is now serving a six year sentence in the penitentiary, filed with the state board of pardons Tuesday an affidavit asserting that James G. Oakley, president of the convict department when the defalcation occurred in 1913, was present at the time the money was paid to Lacy by Frank.

Mr. Oakley, in a formal statement to the board of pardons Saturday, said he was not present when the money was paid to Lacy, that he knew nothing about the affair and that Lacy's story involving him in the defalcation was not true.

In his affidavit, Gunter gave details of the payment of the money which corroborated in a general way the statements made to the board of pardons by Lacy and by Mr. Frank. "I went to the Fourth National Bank and got the money," said Gunter's affidavit regarding the payment of the amount due the convict department by Frank in cash to Lacy. "When I returned to the store Frank, Oakley and Lacy were together. Mr. Oakley was present when I gave the money to Mr. Frank and Lacy gave the receipt. Mr. Oakley was standing not over two feet from Lacy when Mr. Frank paid the $2,200 to Mr. Lacy. After the money was paid to Lacy, Mr. Oakley and Mr. Lacy left the store together."

Lacy's statement said he and Mr. Oakley left together, that he gave the money to Mr. Oakley shortly after they left Frank's store and that later in the day Mr. Oakley gave him $2,000 and requested that he place the amount to Oakley's credit in the Exchange National Bank of Montgomery. A certified copy of a deposit slip showed that on that day Lacy did deposit $2,000 to the credit of Oakley in the bank.

Mr. Oakley told the board of pardons he did go to Frank's store and there informed Frank it would be all right for him to settle the account with Lacy, but that he made no request for the payment of the account in cash and that he did not see any money paid to Lacy. He asserted that he was talking with one of Frank's clerks on another floor at the time of the transaction.

Mr. Frank testified before the board of pardons that he did pay the money to Lacy and receive Lacy's receipt as chief clerk after Oakley had requested that the payment be made in cash and after Oakley had informed him that it would be all right to make the settlement with Lacy.

William T. Seibels, solicitor of Montgomery county, filed with the board of pardons Tuesday a letter protesting against the parole of Lacy. He said Lacy had been given every opportunity to tell the full story of the defalcation in the convict department and had refused.

Mr. Seibels further declared that Lacy's story to the board of pardons was "unthinkable" and that Lacy had failed to carry out the agreement to return the money taken from the state. "He has told so many different stories about the transaction that I do not see how anyone can believe anything he says," concluded Mr. Seibels.

Pythians Will Launch Drive for Funds to Construct Modern Home for Orphans

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 16.—Plans for an intensive campaign among the subordinate lodges of Knights of Pythias of Alabama for funds with which to begin the construction of the state home for widows and orphans of members of the lodge in Alabama were outlined at a conference in Montgomery today between Hugo L. Black, of Birmingham, grand chancellor; Allan Crenshaw, of Andalusia, past grand chancellor and chairman of the Pythian Home Fund, and the district deputies who will have charge of the campaign of education.

The campaign of education will be started at once and will continue until the end of January. In February every member of the Knights of Pythias of the state will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund, which will be used in constructing buildings adequate for the needs of the order in Alabama. The duties of the district deputies will be to present the plan to every subordinate lodge in the state and their work will keep them busy until the end of February. The district deputies who will have charge of the campaign of education and who reported for the conference today either by their personal presence or by letter, were H. P. Martin, of Greenville, W. T. Parker, of Birmingham, E. W. Winslett, of Dadeville, L. B. Wilson, of Demopolis, J. R. Melton, of Pineapple, C. O. Mason, of Pine Hill, William Millikin, of Florence, N. C. Nibbanks, of Anniston, W. H. Hargrove, of Tuscaloosa, B. T. Wolf, of Montgomery.

The grand lodge in 1920 decided to construct the state home. A site has not been selected and will not be until propositions have been received from various sections of the state. Several offers have already been received and a number of towns have offered large bonuses in addition to sites for the institution. The committee desires to give every city and town in Alabama an opportunity to obtain the home.

Since the grand lodge voted to establish the home $15,000 has been contributed to the building fund and the committee is hopeful that the campaign now impending will place $40,000 or more in the treasury to the credit of the fund before the end of February.

Ten states in the Union have already established homes and recently New Hampshire purchased the "Old Homestead," the home of Denman Thompson, who made the "Old Homestead" famous on the stage, which is being converted into a state home for widows and orphans of Pythians of New Hampshire.

It is the intention of the committee in Alabama to present a prize banner to the district which contributes the greatest amount per capita to the fund during the campaign and to present a memorial altar to the subordinate lodges which report the greatest contribution per capita.

Pythians Hold Interesting Meet

Hermione Lodge, No. 16, Knights of Pythias, held a very interesting and important meeting at Castle Hall, Decatur, on Monday night.

In addition to the conferring the rank of Esquire, a fine address was made by Prof. Benson on the subject, "Principles of Pythianism."

Attendance talks were made by J. P. Earp and J. Bloch, of Albany and Decatur, respectively.

Two visitors were present, one from Ohio, and the other, Thomas M. Owen, Jr., of Central Lodge No. 9, Montgomery. Mr. Owen, in addressing the lodge, expressed his appreciation of the kind reception accorded him, and the cordiality manifested by the citizens of Albany and Decatur.

A special feature of the next meeting night, which is Monday, the 21st, will be the rehearsal of the special team which is to confer the Rank of Knight on November 28th.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE FOLLOWING LINES OF OLD ORDER SO FAMILIAR ABROAD

Full Membership of Big Five Enters Meeting Shortly Before Noon

SECRETARY HUGHES HAS PROGRAM FOR DEBATE

American Chairman Will Outline Policies of the United States

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Negotiations in the disarmament and for eastern conference turned today into channels of secrecy. The old policy of working out decisions behind closed doors and then announcing them to the public, so familiar to the European diplomats gathered here, is being followed.

Questions of the utmost delicacy are involved and diplomats, like politicians, dread the future publication of utterances in private which might embarrass either themselves or their countries. The full membership of the big five went into session shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. The doors were locked and admission was denied to all while the diplomats prepared to tackle the vexing issues involved in China and the Orient.

Diplomatic secrecy as a basis for the discussion of the Pacific problems was believed to be especially pleasing to Japan and it was expected that Japan would have suggestions or counter proposals to make concerning a great deal of America's Pacific program.

The far east was passed over entirely in the two open sessions of the conference. Both Britain and Japan have pledged their support to the fundamentals of the naval reduction scheme, but in the capital of Japan there is an interlocking of naval and far eastern problems. It is freely admitted that the discussion of the far east policies is loaded with dynamite and for this reason the guns will be fired behind closed doors.

Secretary of States Hughes has a program in the far east just as he had a program of naval reductions, but it seemed virtually certain today that it will not be presented in the same bombastic way. Japan also has a program for the far east and it seems assured that the whole discussion of policies in the Orient is designed to bring into early conflict the diametrically opposite views of the American and Japanese statesmen.

The exact nature of both programs is not known. The Japanese, it is believed, are placing high hopes in the Lansing-Ishii agreement under which the United States was committed to recognize Japan's special interests in China and the far east. This agreement has been savagely attacked by friends of China and no where more bitterly than in the United States Senate and it has been freely predicted that it will be nullified, if not actually repudiated, in the present conference. The next plenary session of the conference probably will be held Friday.

Premier Briand is expected to return to France to look after his political fences within two weeks and it is said that the Premier is anxious to get his land armament speech delivered as soon as possible in order that he may be free to go should the exigencies of French politics suddenly demand his return home.

SALARIES OF OTHERS MAGNIFIED

Except the virtues of others, most else concerning them generally speaking is magnified many times over in the imaginations of their fellows. A case in point, supporting this doctrine, is the belief expressed locally that the teachers, school superintendents, and ministers get rather handsome salaries. The facts in the case briefly stated are: educators, teachers and others who deal in valuable information are the most poorly paid people in the community. This truth is emphasized, when we come to count the time and money used by this class of workers in preparing themselves for their life callings. And a goodly share of the earnings especially of teachers, must be consumed annually in paying the price at summer schools and universities of keeping their store of information replenished and in keeping sufficiently up to date to enable them to meet their requirements.

Since the bonds needed for increased school facilities have been ordered put to a vote of the people, there have been rumors and suggestions galore, all tending to show that the schools are absorbing an unusually large amount of money, especially in salaries. It has been reported among other things that the school board pays the Superintendent of the Albany schools the sum of $400 a month, the fact in the case being he gets only $250 a month, with the general understanding he is to use a considerable amount of this money every year traveling to Universities throughout the country, and securing new and valuable ideas for use in the Albany schools.

It is also known to be a fact that the Superintendent here has been offered $4,000 a year to go elsewhere, but steadily refuses such offers because he has an abiding and personal desire to see the Albany schools become the very best possible. This same statement could doubtless be duplicated in many cases among the school teachers and among others interested in the permanent welfare of the community.

IF IT USES FACTS, THE DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE WILL SUCCEED

Honesty is the only obstacle over which the ancient diplomacies cannot pass. We are told that the diplomats at the disarmament conference were dumfounded by the proposal of Mr. Hughes to scrap certain naval equipment. He was too honest and straight forward for them, so they were stunned. It was the honesty of Mr. Hughes, not his astuteness or plausibility that won him such a great personal victory and placed his nation at the head of the diplomatic green table. Hughes stated after he had dropped his bomb shell of truth: "If it (the proposal) is a success, it is because we have been able to present the delegates with a fact."

There is no wisdom beyond that which knows the value of facts. Grover Cleveland's greatness was in evidence when he said: "We are not dealing with a theory, but with a fact." And as a recent paragraph in these columns said: "You cannot obliterate a fact; you may push it in the back ground for a time, but it is like Bancho's ghost, it refuses to stay away."

The facts that Mr. Hughes turned loose at the green table may keep certain diplomats away, but they will never be able to obliterate the facts stated by the American Secretary of State. Mr. Hughes told the delegates exactly what he wanted and what he would do. He had no mental reservations, and no deceit. He took such high ground that he cannot be attacked. His position must either be accepted or rejected, America's weapon is truth, and as wielded by Hughes it bids fair to cut its way through all opposition. Americans are not good at the old world game of diplomacy. It is too crooked for us. We prefer a straight game with the cards face up on the table.

No body would have won at Washington had old fashioned diplomacy been practiced. The whole peace conference to date would have been a miserable failure, had theories and ideas been used instead of facts. Only, in case the discussions can be led into arguments, theories and prophecies, can the present disarmament conference come to grief.

No one but the thoughtful farmer can more than half realize what it means for him to lose his crop. It means more than the loss of time and labor. It means more than the price of the little comforts and luxuries it would buy. It means more than the price of the loss of warm garments, shoes, etc., for the family. When this happens, he remembers with a pang how he called those little fellows from their morning slumber, and set them to their tasks in the field, and how their arms and necks blistered, and with a keen pang in his heart, for when he loses a crop it seems that so much of his children's lives went with it. Whenever we hear a fellow speak lightly of the farmer, to put it in mild terms, we know that he speaks without thinking.

A fine picture it is, that stalwart young man who went to college through the efforts of his old father and mother who stayed at home and worked and stinted themselves in order that their boy might finish his education. Graduation day came on, and he was insistent that they should be there and witness the exercises. After it was all over and he had covered himself with honor, he left the stage and went to an obscure corner of the building and hunted up that old couple who had come in their simple way to see the pride of their affection. He at once threw his arms around them and thanked them for making it possible for him to so acquit himself, while all eyes were strained in that direction and wondering why he hunted them up. He knew why, and it was the bigness in the man that prompted the deed. He made his mark and is still reaching up to higher marks. Is it any wonder?

Great men are not born great, but by mastering each situation that arises in their sphere of activity, and thus doing great things, they become great through service.

The disarmament conference in session in the city of Washington, D. C., if it succeeds in limiting armaments to a degree that will slice off a good portion of that 93% of taxation that goes to sustain wars and rumors of wars, will have done a great service to the taxpayers of the nation, and each one should have his picture in the Hall of Fame.

"There are no birds in last year's nests" is a term we all have constantly before us as we jog along through life.

Facts and Fancies; the first all MUST take notice of; the last you can do so if you choose.

What has become of the old word Gumption in the scramble for new terms? It certainly meant something.

The smallest act of solicitude sometimes brings light to lusterless eyes, and a flush of joy to the pale cheeks of our sick friend. We rarely ever think until too late.

Home-made philosophy may not sound as soothing as fine sounding metaphors, but, it goes a long way when common sense matters hold the attention.

Neither of the heavenly twins was a hobo.

As the next war is to be from the air, why have water ships any way?

Those who knock too much, enter their homes with hope away behind.

Unless we can have as many disarmament parades as we did preparedness demonstrations there is danger of the limitation of armament meet failing.

The idea is having a ten years naval holiday, is to fix the habit on us until we will cease to try to rule the wave.

How They Did It

An old farmer and his wife lived near the village church. One warm Sunday evening while they sat dozing on the porch, the crickets set up a loud chirping.

"I just love to hear that chirpin' noise," said the old man drowsily, and before the crickets had stopped, he was fast asleep.

Soon after the church choir broke into a beautiful chant.

"Just listen to them!" exclaimed his wife, "ain't it beautiful?"

"Yes," murmured the old farmer sleepily, "they do it with their hind legs."

One morning on arriving at the house the doctor ran into the butler.

"I hope," said he, "that your master's temperature is no higher."

"I was just hoping that myself, sir," said the butler solemnly. "You see, he died an hour or two ago."

BAD BLOOD RUINS COMPLEXIONS

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES
RICH, RED BLOOD—
LIQUID OR TABLETS

The woman whose complexion is muddy and almost sallow has blood that is clogged with poisons. She awakens in the morning with a languid feeling. She seems to have no energy at all.

Her blood is weak and thin and she needs to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan for a while, as thousands of women do when they feel run down. It makes rich, red blood. Where blood was thin and weak it becomes rich and red. Then that woman who has had such a bad complexion and has found it so hard to do things, begins to look a lot rosier. She doesn't look so droopy and tired. In a little while the look on her face brightens, her complexion clears up, and she feels happier.

The druggist in your neighborhood sells Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It has been recommended by doctors for years. There is the liquid and tablet form. Take your choice because the medicinal value is the same. The name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package.—adv.

Beloved Woman Called by Death

Miss Georgia O. Bouldin died this morning at her residence in Trinity, near here, at the age of 56 years. She was a daughter of the late Richard M. Bouldin, a prominent Morgan county resident. She was born at the old Bouldin home on the Courtland road. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Methodist church in Trinity at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. Hill. Interment will be made in Fennell burial grounds on Trinity mountain.

COTTON MARKET OPENING IS WEAK

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 16—Easy cables with uncertainty about short time in the mills at Manchester, England, started a selling movement in the cotton market at the opening today which weakened first prices 10 to 25 points. Later the list recovered much of this loss on reports that the pink boll worm has invaded the largest cotton country in Texas.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Huggins residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Huggins said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful aches and pains, and I didn't feel like going to work. I was pale, didn't feel like going to work, and I couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on. "My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me. "It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped. "Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others. "If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Huggins mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not get Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years. Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it. NC-133.

MRS. J. M. HERNDON

Whereas, The death Angel has again claimed one of our members; and Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to call Mrs. J. M. Herndon higher to dwell with Him; therefore be it Resolved, 1.—That we, the Moulton Heights Baptist church, bow our heads to the will of God; that we have lost a true member, a worthy sister, a sympathetic friend, and most of all, a loving wife and mother.

2.—That we extend our sympathy to the bereaved family, pointing them to an eternal God, who looks down with loving compassion on their crushed hearts. He will fold the arms of love and protection around those who put their trust in Him.

3.—That in her death a home is bereft of a devoted wife and mother, but we pray that her life may be exemplified and her memory perpetuated in our hearts.

4.—That a copy of these resolutions be given to the family, one be spread on the minutes of the church, and that one be sent to the Alabama Baptist for publication.

A dear mother from us has gone, A voice we love is still; A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled. May we all so live that when our summons come to join the saints we may lie down as if to pleasant sleep. Respectfully submitted, TOMMIE WOODRUFF, MRS. E. L. ASHFORD, MRS. WILL LAMON, Committee.

"UNCHARTED SEAS" FEATURE

"Uncharted Seas," with Alice Lake in the stellar role, comes to the Princess Theatre today. As Lucretia Eastman, the young woman who gives her husband a last chance to regenerate himself, and prove that he is something else than an arrant rotter and coward, Alice Lake has a role preeminently fitted to her powers. The theme of "Uncharted Seas," with its climax far up in the Bering Straits, amid the dangers that beset travelers is far out of the beaten road of pictures.

"NIGHTIE NIGHT" COMES TO PRINCESS TOMORROW NIGHT

With a long successful run at the New York Princess Theatre and a record breaking tour last year to its credit, "Nightie Night," the jolliest comedy of many seasons, proclaimed by reviewers in New York and Chicago as the funniest play ever written, comes to the Princess Theatre Thursday night. The advent in Albany of this brilliant comedy with its splendid cast, promises one of the most charming diversions the theatre has afforded in many seasons. With a wealth of witty lines and characters typically human, the authors have evolved situations ludicrously funny. The chief events in the play surround Billy Moffat, a newly married young man, whose ill luck starts when he meets an old friend, an attractive young woman, Trixie Lorraine, finds she is in trouble and sets about helping her. His prying sister sees him meet Trixie, and proceeds to make life miserable for him, for he left himself vulnerable by failing to tell his wife of the chance meeting. Further complications occur when Trixie's husband

ARGUMENTS SET IN TAX LAW HEARING

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 10—Arguments will be made before the supreme court December 2 on the case from Montgomery county brought by the tax payers league in the name of W. C. Braswell, of Coffee county, which involves the validity of the two-year tax assessment sections of the general revenue act of 1919. An agreement has been reached between counsel for the state and attorneys for the tax payers league whereby the case will be submitted for decision at that time.

In the Montgomery circuit court, Judge Walter B. Jones held that the legislature exceeded its power in providing for the assessment of property every two years and required the state tax commission again to revalue all property in Alabama for taxes for the calendar year which began October 1, 1920, and ended September 30, 1921. From this decision the state appealed to the supreme court while the court was in recess and for this reason the case could not be submitted immediately.

Both sides to the controversy have expressed a desire to submit the case and obtain a final decision of the supreme court at the earliest possible moment. The tax payers league in recent communications requested tax payers not to pay their taxes until a decision had been rendered. This advice was given when the legislature refused to abolish the tax adjusters as requested by those who oppose the present tax laws.

turns up and begs aid of Billy, who is also a friend of the husband.

"Nightie Night" is under the personal direction of Philip Klein, for many years associated with the Selwyn successes, and whose name is synonymous with the highest class attractions. It is only because of radical changes in the bookings of the week stands that "Nightie Night" has several weeks of open time which is being played in the smaller cities, and this gives Albany the rare opportunity of seeing a New York production with the original cast.
